LOSE THE LINE. KEEP THE CONNECTION.

ARE YOU WIRELESSLY PROTECTED?

There are many layers of protection available today. Signage in the front yard serves as a deterrent, alerting possible intruders that your home is secure. The next layer of security is a traditional system, which depends on telephone lines, to deliver 24 hour monitoring. The final layer, wireless protection, delivers the greatest security - communication to a monitoring station.

Wireless protection is the most reliable because it...

- ...cannot be disabled by tampering with your telephone line.
- ...operates independently from your telephone service provider.
- ...gives you comfort knowing that your security system communications are transmitted.
